Confident Next Year Will Be Better, Declares Senator

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—The Globe in a newspaper story from its Ottawa correspondent quotes Senator Dan Riley, one of Alberta's pioneer ranchers, as saying: "We are not quitting in the west and we are not a break."

Senator Riley's advice was sought by the Dominion government in dealing with the prairie drought problem.

PAID OVER WINTER

"We are saving food hay and feed grain can be used to us over the coming winter in the confidence that next year will be better and we can make a fresh start," said Senator Riley.

Senator Riley's primary concern was for the future of the ranching industry. The Globe report said, "Landowners must not forget the raising of cattle and the livestock industry which will maintain the prairie."

ARABIAN NIGHTS

IN RUSS PLOTS

Bewildered Witness Solomely Recounts Fantastic Tale at Soviet Trial

By CHARLES F. NUTTER Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press MOSCOW, Aug. 21.—The story of how a copy of the Arabian Nights was used as a secret code between Russia's anti-Soviet conspirators gave a fantastic touch today to the trial at 10 confessed plotters.

The morning hearing was occupied by the presentation of argument by C. H. Grant, K.C., supporting the motion that it was beyond the power of the city council to enter into the agreement with the proposed to accept the city council.

"Smirnoff gave me a copy of the Arabian Nights," the witness related, "which, in some way which I do not remember, served as a secret code."

"Upon meeting Smirnoff in Berlin I handed him a specific assurance of economic and political affairs of the U.S.S.R. and the Arabian Nights code."

Leon Trotsky, the celebrated Russian revolutionary leader, was accused by both sides of the government and the defendants as the master of the plot, embracing not only many attempts upon the life of Dictator Joseph Stalin.

Holzmann, a reluctant witness, told of a meeting with Trotsky in Copenhagen at which he quoted the exile as saying:

"The only way to remove Stalin is through terror." Witnesses corroborated charges that he had been at least three times attempts to kill Stalin. The latter witnesses asserted, was obtained by a specific assurance of economic and political affairs of the U.S.S.R. and the Arabian Nights code.

Bombs labeled "diploona" were to be delivered to Stalin by the student stop the tomb of Nikolai Lenin, it was testified.

Edmonton Woman Believes Election Now Would Return Aherhart

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Aherhart Margaret Crang of Edmonton, in an interview here Thursday, said she believed if Premier Aherhart of Alberta called a general election there at present he would be endorsed again.

"Yes, I feel confident he would," Miss Crang told an interviewer. "It is an open personality, no doubt, but the people generally have confidence in his sincerity."

Miss Crang, stopping off in Toronto on her way to the world peace conference at Brussels, said also the success of the Alberta government's scrip issue depended upon public confidence.

If the scrip circulates, if the store accept it, then—despite an inevitable mild inflation—I believe it may make the grade," she said. "However, as long as the scrip is not accepted as readily as a dollar bill-worth, then the scheme begins to weaken right there. I ought to add, I think that in the meantime the stores and the unemployed are accepting it."

Miss Crang, stopping off in Toronto on her way to the world peace conference at Brussels, said also the success of the Alberta government's scrip issue depended upon public confidence.

Strange Denizens
Of Briny Deep
On Eastern Shore

KENTVILLE, N.S., Aug. 21.—Another strange denizen of the deep has been landed at Hall's Harbor, N.S., and is providing a problem for marine authorities.

Following a report of a 22-foot fish, believed to be a sea serpent, was landed yesterday by fishermen at Hall's Harbor, N.S.

Word reached here that a prehistoric-looking fish weighing 350 pounds had come into Hall's Harbor with the tide.

The creature, which was six feet long and two feet thick, taken out of the water by a derrick after it had become stranded by the receding tide, the monster weighed 350 pounds.

Fishermen expressed the opinion that the creature was a prehistoric fish, but Captain Jesse Parker of Hall's Harbor, who has been around the world for 60 years at sea, was convinced it was not one of his species.

Yesterday a monster estimated to weigh more than four tons was caught in a fish trap at Hall Harbor when the tide receded.

Toolless, the fish was believed by a veteran seaman to be a basking shark, a species of whale similar to those he had seen in foreign waters.

WALDORF RIC, NOT SNOOTY, SAYS VISITOR

Good-Will Tourist Puts In Few Plugs For Vast

As a family party of the handsome young man in the Esquire clothing ad, Douglas A. Stalker, Canadian assistant manager of Manhattan's monumental Waldorf-Astoria hotel, passed in Edmonton Wednesday to lobby a few "plugs" for his establishment, which is assuming the "goodwill" tour.

Resident in the hotel for two months of the year, Assistant Manager Stalker spends each summer staying in the provincial press and generally functioning as a "builder-upper" for what he deems as New York's "unofficial place."

ROOSEVELT'S ENVOYS VIEW BRITISH CO-OP

Vast Organization Has Aspects of Over Five Hundred Millions

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 21.—Wide ramifications of the British co-operative movement came under the inspection last night of President Roosevelt's three-man commission making a survey of the movement in Europe.

When Frank B. Rowland, president of the Co-operative Wholesale Society, explained the movement and then sent the commissioners on a tour of the warehouse area where they saw how the co-operatives provided goods from food to housing.

TALK TO WORKERS

Today the commission will interview workers to discover how the movement benefits family economies.

Leaders of the co-operative system point to the $200,000,000 yearly sales of the British Co-operative Wholesale Society as proof of their claim that co-operatives are a success.

The Co-operative Wholesale Society differs from the local retail co-operatives in that it is a co-operative of co-operatives.

It is a co-operative of co-operatives. It is a co-operative of co-operatives. It is a co-operative of co-operatives.

VAST INCREASE REPORTED IN WHEAT EXPORT

Sales Are Tripled, Figures Released by Ottawa Indicate

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Wheat and aluminum contributed largely to the increase in exports from Canada in 1935 to $51,000,000 compared with $35,280,000 in 1934.

Wheat exports rose to $21,800,000 as compared with $7,214,000 in 1934. Exports of aluminum increased to $15,338,000 as compared with $5,082,000 in 1934.

The figures were disclosed today in a report by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Butter, cattle and cheese exports were greatly in excess with the same time a year ago. Dominion exports of sugar, binder twine, cotton, automobiles and parts, and farm implements.

Exports to the British empire increased to $44,230,000 as compared with $28,566,000 in July, 1935, while exports to the United Kingdom alone showed an increase of nearly $16,000,000 over the previous July.

With the exception of the exports to Australia, where there was a slight dropping off, exports to other dominions were greater than in July, 1935.

Manitoba Seared To Define Position

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—Statement of the Manitoba Social Credit League regarding the proposed agreement of the party's five representatives in the House of Commons to support the Liberal-Progressive administration is expected.

Some 400 members of the league met to discuss the action of Dr. F. G. McCrean, M.P., and the party's position on the proposed agreement.

State Going Wet Blamed For Drought

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—The drought in the west is being blamed on the "wet" policy of the federal government, according to a statement made by Mrs. Jeanette Mann of Des Moines.

Dr. W. J. Mann, said after visiting the province.

Governor Olson "Very Much Better"

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 21.—Gov. Floyd B. Olson's condition is very much better, it was said when he arrived Monday night after an emergency airplane trip.

SHOWERS HELP WHEAT CROP IN ALBERTA

South of Calgary Yield Is Five to Six Bushels To Seed

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—The Manitoba crop will probably be larger than last year, with high protein content, according to the weekly grain report of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Practically all grain in the Western province has been cut and shown a record of 1935.

Grasshoppers have done some damage in the West, but the rust threat has been largely dispelled by the early harvest.

Red Deer, Sask., is in the Eastern section, averaging 15 to 20 bushels to the acre.

In Alberta about 75 per cent of the crop south of Calgary has been harvested, according to the weekly report of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

RED DEER IS HOLDING FAIR

RED DEER, Aug. 21.—Some of the most beautiful flowers and finest vegetables in Red Deer were on exhibition at the 1936 show of the Red Deer Horticultural Society.

The show was held in the parish hall on Thursday.

For the dry season the showing of flowers was particularly noteworthy.

The blooms were placed on tables and in the show cases.

The main show was judged by Fred Delaney, head gardener at the Red Deer Horticultural Society.

Her husband, a former member of the Royal North West Mounted Police and was formerly warden of both the Fort Saskatchewan and Lethbridge jails.

She is survived by her husband, and three sons, Donald of Lethbridge and Thomas and Fred of Edmonton.

As Florence McDonald, her maiden name, she was known to a wide circle of friends, being one of the most popular young ladies in the circle in which she moved.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Other tributes to Mr. Magee were made by Mr. D. G. McCrean, M.P., and by members of the House of Commons.

On behalf of the members of the House of Commons, Mr. D. G. McCrean presented Mr. Magee with a pair of binoculars.

In thanking the members for their present and for the honor done him by Mr. Magee, he said that the funeral of his late wife had been the final of his life to him.

He said that he had been laid down as the common duty of man by Christ. This has been my life, he said, and my life is now over.

RHETORICAL THUNDER STORMS

Maybe the weather is to blame. Maybe the altitude has something to do with it. And maybe it is just human nature reacting to the impact of strange, new, and untried things, with no election in sight and the legislature not sitting, political discussion in Alberta in this summer season seems to be unusually charged with explosive tendencies. The revelations from the free-for-all debate on "prosperity bonks" and dividends sound like the echoes from a European peace conference.

It is in order to suggest that a little less
"language" and a good deal more objective attention to facts and issues would be profitable. Alberta in the past has been inclined to differ widely on political matters and express their views with ample emphasis, while still maintaining respect for the views of others. It is not that in future it will make little difference who leads the Government or what policy is applied; we shall be doomed in any case. A democracy can only live and prosper in an atmosphere of tolerance.

DISTINCTION IN ORDER

Somebody reported the other day that a man in Toronto called Premier Albertbert a Communist. He didn't, but a good many Albertans have done so, some of them quite openly. That is a charge the Premier, who is a Communist, has his present proposals for his purposes, he is not taking Russia as a model.

There is no close resemblance between a Russia in which Premier Albertbert is in order to pay each other Social Credit dividends, and the harsh dictatorship under which every person in Russia is subject to the will of the dominant minority. Comparison is the essence of Communism. There is no comparison in the substance dividend plan as announced for this country. Those who would like to see Russia who do not want to sign up need not do so.

While the plan remains on a voluntary basis
it cannot be compared to Russia. There is no hint given that the voluntary principle will be departed from. However strongly one may dislike the workability of the scheme, it cannot be branded as the introduction of Soviet rule.

ABUSE IS NOT ARGUMENT

Speaking at Colinton this week, Hon. W. A.
Pitt, who expressed the opinion that the Social Credit is "a poor devilment of humankind," the "expression leaves nothing to be desired on the point of courtesy. Non-theless, the Premier's abuse of the Social Credit Minister of Public Works thinks about for there is no cause to doubt his sincerity.

That granted, it is equally certain that Providence did not fashion Mr. Pitt for a diplomat.
As a tactician he is a good fighter, however. For consideration, saying that without his plans could not succeed. His colleague has taken a cautious way of inducing the co-operation for which the Premier has been so anxious. The way of making the great experiment a success.
Abusing prospective converts does not bring them into the fold.

On the contrary, members of the Social Credit party will know that the description does not fit non-believers with whom they have been for years and still are, on equal terms. Expressions of the kind do more to credit doubt than to build confidence in any cause. Men who can give a good reason for the faith that is in them will have no respect of those who think otherwise.

THREATS DO NOT HELP

At the same time, Mr. Lamprey, M.L.A., speaking at Peace River, said opponents of Social Credit will "sell" when they find out what is to be done to them at the short session of the legislature scheduled for next week.

Again, sympathy is due to the Premier for the unfortunate outbreak of his supporter. This is a direct threat to all who are not Social Credit views. The Premier may not share the sentiment; but it must react all the same to the co-operation he has been asking for, and to anyone making the same of Social Crediters who have no desire to make politics a feudal war. Fear is the last and poorest of support in a country where self-government exists.

Freedom of speech and freedom of thought are prized by Social Crediters not less than others. If they are not, they are equal to with them are to be legislatively penalized, they will logically infer that they also will be penalized should they ever differ with those who for the time may hold the voting power in the legislature. The Premier has been very careful to emphasize that tyranny is no part of his political code. Mr. Lamprey evidently has other views.

MEASURES, NOT MEN

It will be this time to go back to the basic principles of the Social Credit movement.
Mr. Albertbert was elected a year ago on a platform which promised Social Credit dividends to every bona fide resident of the province, sufficient to the provision of food, clothing and shelter. He asked for eighteen months in which to get the system established. He is entitled to that leave, with no-bait found if the dividends do not start sooner.

The measures he is adopting to that end are proper subject for discussion. So also is the script plan, but it is not the subject of this column. Mr. Albertbert is not a man to be facilely bartered in the absence of money. But also in the advocacy of these measures and in criticism of them, there must be restraint. The measures, not the men for and against them, are the proper subjects for consideration.

Should the measures succeed, everyone will benefit. Should they fail, the blame will be placed on the measures, not on the man. The first policies that have fallen short of expectations. A surmise may be hazarded that, whatever happens, the dividend plan and the script policy will neither break the province nor alter the millennium. We shall still have to earn our living by the sweat of our brows. And we shall have to work until sundown, and then with those who are at present on the other side of the argument. The less that is said now in bitterness, the less there will be to repent of after a while.

Fifty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

F. Sache received a letter by last mail from C. Sanderson written from Vancouver. He says he found it a good deal of place only a few weeks old, with hotels and saloons taking the lead. Up country the mining industry is booming. There are many more men here than in Creston. There is too much water to work to good advantage and Scotch creek would be good if there was any gold to be had.

Another of the old time friends has been able to return to the major—this time by the old reliable Winchester route. Little Pitt, the new of whose death appears in this issue, was not a chief but a man. Big Bear's son, and he was a relative of the chief. In the old days before the treaty when Fort Pitt was the headquarters of the band, Little Pitt was enjoying the reputation of being the most Indian in the always instigating villainy and breeding unpleasantness, being more inclined to make mistakes than Big Bear himself. He accompanied Big Bear in his wanderings around Cypress Hills and south of the line and returned north with him. He was a good hunter and a good

Brown, Risch And Fisher Named By Industry Minister

Representative Trades Will Assist Government On Code Matters

Establishment of the permanent advisory board under provisions of the Trade and Industry Act, to advise the government on matters pertaining to the general retail code in this province, was announced on Friday by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry and provincial secretary.

The board consists of A. J. Brown, Edmonton; John Risch, Edmonton; C. S. Fisher, Edmonton; W. E. Lord, Deer, Ernest Wilson, Lethbridge; and A. H. Riley, Medicine Hat.

Formation of this board is authorized under provisions of the Trade and Industry Act. The retail code was brought down, also under provisions of the Trade and Industry Act, at the last session.

The board was selected from among the members of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce. W. D. King, deputy minister of trade and industry, will act as the board's representative on the board.

Mr. Brown is president and general manager of the W. H. Clark Lumber Company. For many years he has been chairman of the Edmonton Retail Merchants Association.

Mr. Risch is the proprietor of the West End grocery and has been 20 years in the retail business. He has been active in the retail trade commission.

Mr. Fisher has been in business since 1910. Mr. Lord has had an extensive business career in Red Deer. He is president of the W. E. Lord company. At one time he conducted a general store at Red Deer, but sold out to W. E. Lord.

Mr. Wilson is president of the Lethbridge Calgary and Medicine Hat members of the board have had extensive experience with various lines of business.

In announcing the appointments, Hon. Mr. Manning stated that the government was fortunate in having the assistance of such capable and widely experienced men.

Who's Who Motorists Becoming More Careful When Officers Crack Down

Traffic violators paid dearly for their infractions of the various traffic regulations Thursday when several motorists had fines imposed upon them in police court. More are scheduled to appear in court Friday, said traffic officials.

News that the strong arm of the law intended to crack down on motorists who showed little or no regard for traffic rules must have given a jolt of terror to city motorists as only five minutes were taken down by reporters in Thursday's checkup.

These traffic violators were: 72-011 which was seen to drive through the intersection at 106 avenue and 101 street at 8:59 p.m. The car showed a license plate that disappeared in a burst of speed and no pedestrian had to leap to reach the sidewalk safely.

Car number 102-430 was seen to drive through the intersection at 102 street and Jasper avenue at 10:25 p.m. One minute later, car number 3-550 drove through the intersection without coming to a proper stop.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Edmonton's age of chivalry is dead, the Inquiring Reporter discovered Wednesday morning. He was tabulating opinions by Edmonton citizens on a Montreal critics' proclamation "that every late-comer to a theatre or concert should be branded with the mark of infamy—women especially."

Everyone interviewed, except one, agreed. JAMES MAIR, shipper: I think women are the chief offenders in this respect. They come in late at concerts in their dresses. A mark of infamy wouldn't improve their appearance any, but it might teach them some manners.

N. T. FERRIS, druggist: I quite agree with him. I think such nuisances should be charged a double tax. If they persist in coming late, they ought to be black-listed.

MARGARET PATTERSON, student: I don't see why anyone who interferes with other people's enjoyment at shows should be immune from late fees. They ought to be charged a double tax.

PAUL SHEREMATA, jeweller: No, I don't see why anyone who interferes with other people's enjoyment at shows should be immune from late fees. They ought to be charged a double tax.

ANNA DUNN: I would put a tag under their noses in all public places. But the theatres are really to blame. They shouldn't let late-comers in at all hours of the show.

It is said that the pressure under the new law is the major cause of cylinder wear.

WEATHER LADY SAYS IT'S RAIN

The weather lady went honest Friday morning. There was no weaseling with the usual "partly showers" business—she came right out flatfoot with a forecast of "continued cool with more rain."

But not so the Toronto weather office. From Ontario's overgrown "leakage" town came what Al-bertha can expect, weather, partly cloudy today and Saturday with showers in many districts.

Thursday's high was 76 and the overnight low was 52 which stretched from 2:00 to 7:00 a.m. Friday.

Toronto belted down over farmlands in the near north, the Peace River blue and the area around Slave Lake taking the biggest knock.

Stolen Car Is Found By Police

A car owned by Paul Hovewick, 1002 35 street, reported stolen from 1300 avenue and 101 street early on Thursday evening, was found several hours later on 102 street, just north of Jasper avenue, by Constables A. Johnson and A. Woodward. The car was badly damaged and appeared to have been in a wreck.

Story by HAL COCHRANE Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

"Wheel!" Golden shouted. "Here we go. I'm going to take a flop, I know. I've never travelled quite as fast as on these funny skis."

"I'll bet you anything that our speed, now, is 30 miles an hour. While it gives me a thrill, I'm getting shaky in the knees."

"Oh, don't give up," cried Doty. "Gee, please stick right by the side of me."

Golden yelled. "I guess we are pretty good."

"My body tipped far to the side," Golden said.

"And so did mine," said Doty. "I don't know how it happened, but we did just as well as should."

Then Doty said, "That's not so nice. I see a large crack in the ice."

At first, we don't know where we're going. But we're on our merry way.

"When we rejoin the bunch," says Goldy, "I don't let to about the fact that this stunt too seriously is a lot of play."

On, on they went. Then came a turn and Goldy cried, "Here's where we learn how good we really are by sticking on these funny things."

"If we can make the turn all right," says Goldy, "I'll be on our flight. The way we bounce over little bumps, you think we were on springs."

Around they went, and while they swayed, right on the skills the crowd roared and cheered.

Ice. Well have to stop or we will crash right into that big hole."

Fair Goldy took a sudden step back. "I don't want to stop," he said. "Poor Daddy's killed. I cannot stop myself, to save my soul!"

The next thing that the poor girl knew, right through the open air she flew. Though Goldy, when she was on the ice, its bound to crack.

The landing, though, was softer than a feather. She fell on her back and around, and then she cried, "We're landed! How can I get back to my feet?"

(Goldy rushes for help, in the next scene.)

The camera has solved for man the method used by insects in maneuvering their six legs, when walking or running. When studied, the method described above will show that the insect is supported by a firm, three-legged tripod while the three other legs are reaching out for a new hold.
